PRINTABLE ITINERARY

3-Day Bangkok Night Market Itinerary

From our guide Top 10 Best Night Markets in Bangkok. Print it or save it to your phone.

This plan groups the markets by area so you spend more time eating and less time in traffic. It doubles as a free printable itinerary. Markets can be closed on some days, so check before you go and keep a backup in mind.

Day 1: Chinatown and the river

Spend the afternoon on the river, then take a boat to Ratchawong Pier and walk into Yaowarat as the street food stalls open. Eat your way along the street, then finish with a late dessert. If you are tired, take the MRT back from Wat Mangkon.

Day 2: Riverside and Silom

Start with a late afternoon visit to Asiatique The Riverfront by free shuttle boat from Sathorn Pier, and stay for dinner and a ride on the Ferris wheel. Take the boat back, then walk or ride to Patpong Night Market for souvenirs and a drink in Silom.

Day 3: The weekend markets

On a Friday, go to Chatuchak Friday Night, then head to Jodd Fairs Ratchada for a late snack. On a Saturday, swap this for Talad Rot Fai Srinakarin, which is a longer trip but the best vintage market. Finish at Huai Khwang Night Market if you still have energy.

The 10 places at a glance

1. Talad Rot Fai Srinakarin

How to get there: Taxi or ride-hailing app from central Bangkok, or the Yellow Line monorail and a short taxi ride (check the route).
How long to spend: Two to three hours.
Best time to go: A Friday or Saturday evening, arriving before it gets crowded.
Tip: Eat first, shop second, and agree the price before you take anything vintage.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

2. Chatuchak Friday Night

How to get there: BTS to Mo Chit, or MRT to Chatuchak Park or Kamphaeng Phet.
How long to spend: Two hours.
Best time to go: Friday evening, when the heat has eased.
Tip: Check which sections are open before you set out, and plan a return visit on a weekend day if you want the full market.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

3. Jodd Fairs Ratchada

How to get there: MRT to Thailand Cultural Centre, then a short walk, if the market is on Ratchadaphisek Road.
How long to spend: Ninety minutes to two hours.
Best time to go: An early weekday evening for fewer queues.
Tip: Confirm the current location before you go, as this market has moved in recent years.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

4. Train Night Market Ratchada

How to get there: MRT to Thailand Cultural Centre or Rama 9, then a short taxi ride or walk.
How long to spend: Two hours.
Best time to go: A weekend evening, if the market is open.
Tip: Search for recent reviews or the market's social pages before you go, because the opening status has changed.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

5. Asiatique The Riverfront

How to get there: BTS to Saphan Taksin, then the free shuttle boat from Sathorn Pier.
How long to spend: Two to three hours.
Best time to go: Just before sunset, so you see the river in daylight and at night.
Tip: Check the last shuttle boat time before you settle in to dinner.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

6. Yaowarat (Chinatown)

How to get there: MRT to Wat Mangkon, or the Chao Phraya Express Boat to Ratchawong Pier.
How long to spend: Two to three hours.
Best time to go: From early evening, when stalls are fully set up but before the biggest crowds.
Tip: Share dishes so you can try more stalls, and ask the price of seafood before you order.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

7. Khao San Road

How to get there: Chao Phraya Express Boat to Phra Arthit Pier, then walk, or take a taxi.
How long to spend: One to two hours.
Best time to go: An early evening, before the street gets rowdy.
Tip: Walk to Soi Rambuttri for calmer restaurants and bars.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

8. Patpong Night Market

How to get there: BTS to Sala Daeng or MRT to Silom, then a short walk.
How long to spend: One hour.
Best time to go: Early evening, once stalls have opened.
Tip: Haggle politely, and avoid buying branded goods you expect to be genuine.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

9. Huai Khwang Night Market

How to get there: MRT to Huai Khwang, then a short walk.
How long to spend: One to two hours.
Best time to go: After a late dinner, or when you want a snack before bed.
Tip: Point at what you want, and ask for less chilli if you are not used to spice.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

10. Sukhumvit evening street food

How to get there: BTS to Nana, Asok or Phrom Phong, then walk along the nearby sois.
How long to spend: One hour.
Best time to go: From early evening, when stalls are busy and fresh.
Tip: Choose busy stalls with fast turnover and food cooked in front of you.
Read more | Open in Google Maps

Getting around Bangkok

The BTS Skytrain and MRT are the quickest and most reliable ways to reach most night markets, and they avoid the heavy evening traffic. See the BTS site for routes and fares. Taxis are cheap, but insist on the meter or agree the fare in a ride-hailing app. River boats are a pleasant option for Chinatown, Khao San and the free Asiatique shuttle, though schedules change. Allow more time on Friday and Saturday evenings, when traffic is at its worst. For a full-city food list, see our guide to the best places to eat in Bangkok.

Opening times, prices and transport change often, so check with each venue or operator before you go. For the full guide, photos and FAQs, see https://toptravelinsider.com/top-10-best-night-markets-in-bangkok/.